1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Although there is no statutory responsibility for communities to plan for, respond to, or recover from emergencies, it is good practice to identify hazards and make simple plans on how they could respond to them.

1.2 This plan has been developed to provide resilience for the community in the pre-event phase or early stages of an emergency. All major emergencies are dealt with by the Emergency Services, Local Authorities, Utilities and Voluntary Agencies in a combined response. In extreme conditions such as heavy snow and flooding, there is a possibility that the emergency services may not be able to reach the scene immediately. Smaller events, such as surface flooding, may be dealt with wholly by the community and not involve emergency services and other external agencies. In such circumstances, the initial response may rely entirely on local people.

1.3 Communities have access to people or resources that allow them to respond to specific incidents that may affect a particular locality. Details of the role these people and resources may play and how they will be contacted are included in our Community Emergency Plan.

2. AIM

The aim of this plan is to increase resilience within our community to minimise the impact of adverse events or incidents through developing a robust, co-ordinated approach that compliments the plans of responding agencies.

3. OBJECTIVES

- Identify the risks most likely to impact the community
- Identify relevant steps to mitigate and respond to emergency situations, including warning the community as required.
- Identify vulnerable people and properties in the community
- Identify community resources available to assist during an emergency
- Provide key contact details for the Community Response Team, Key Community Resources, the Emergency Services and Local Authorities.
- Provide information and assistance to the Emergency Services upon their arrival and as appropriate throughout the event.
- Following an event, make a record of what happened, what went well and what could be done better and how this might be achieved.
- This plan will be reviewed and approved annually.

4. ACTIVATING A COMMUNITY EMERGENCY

Emergency incidents can take many forms and scales and these are listed in Section 6, together with their likely frequency and potential impact. If it is a major emergency, when it is anticipated, or occurs, the lead individual will identify the most appropriate location to base the emergency co-ordination point, if necessary. Potential locations are identified at Section 7. When the co-ordination centre has been identified, the emergency services will be informed in order that they may establish their own command posts as required. All information, actions and decisions will be recorded on the incident record sheets as shown as Appendix 2 (or similar). These records will be retained as required. The list is not exhaustive and will be reviewed as part of the annual process, particularly in the light of any developments in and around the parish.

5. PERSONAL DATA PROTECTION INFORMATION

Some members of the community, who are not parish councillors, have volunteered to be contacted in the event of an emergency. They need to be alerted prior to or during such an event. As such, they have been asked to complete a Consent To Share Contact Details Form so that their data can be shared with other volunteers. This means that any volunteer can contact all other volunteers or any of them individually by phone, email or a designated WhatsApp group in the knowledge that they have agreed for their personal data to be used in this way. These completed and signed forms are held by the Clerk to the parish council.
